Sensible sized and efficient

COW EFFICIENCY AT ITS FINEST:

The basis of any good breeding program is the mother cow. Our motto is: “THE RANCHER COMES FIRST”. Every breeding decision we make is to improve our customer's bottom line. BEGGER'S DIAMOND V RANCH provides the perfect blend of COW SENSE, COMMON SENSE and SCIENCE. We know the value of a good mother cow, she must be fertile, efficient and problem-free. She must have the staying power to produce a valuable calf year-after-year on her own, with no extra assistance in the environment mother nature provides. She must possess a low-maintenance, easy-fleshing body type that requires little or no extra input. She has to have a problem-free udder and have a good gentle attitude with a set of feet and legs that will serve her until she exits your program at a ripe old age.

- ❖ We are your source for homozygous black and polled Simmental, SimAngus™, Angus genetics, the top 150 bulls out of 275 sell.
- ❖ Many ½ & ¾ brothers sell in volume enabling you to assemble like bred genetics that are predictable and consistent.
- ❖ From a program that does the day-to-day work. We calve, feed, and work around our cattle every day, so we know our cows if they become problematic. They won't see next year and their only way out is through a packing plant.
- ❖ We are straight shooters. We honestly try to answer and meet our customer's questions, needs and concerns. Our bulls come with a complete 100% satisfaction warranty. If there is a problem we will make it right.
- ❖ We provide free bull keep until April, along with a free breeding soundness exam and free delivery, for the first 500 miles on purchases over $5,000.
- ❖ Every bull walks through the sale ring enabling you to see what you are buying. Some pictures and videos just don't represent cattle as they should.

Raising cattle that work for the cow-calf man, the feeder, and the Packer, while providing an enjoyable eating experience for the consumer should be every cattleman's goal. Ranchers work hard and should expect their cattle to do the same. There are no shortcuts with today's high inputs, your cattle have to be profitable and efficient. Blending EPD and Genomics Traits requires discipline, common sense, and patience. It doesn't matter how impressive the EPD are or the size of calf at weaning. Cattle that lack efficiency and require extra labor and costly inputs are not desirable. This is why common sense and an experienced eye still play a major role in every breeding decision we make. EXTREMES ARE EASY TO ACHIEVE, BALANCE TAKES DISCIPLINE, PATIENCE, AND A LIFETIME OF EXPERIENCE TO PERFECT.

Heins Sight...

By Tamra Heins, Editor

Welcome to the 2023-2024 SD SimmenTeller and ND Simmental Scene magazine. I have gained a lot of unique experience in the last three years and I hope to bring you an interesting and informative magazine this season.

Nothing makes me feel older, than all the “wisdom” I have. Of course, most of that “wisdom” was created by bad decision making. Mark Twain once said, “Good judgement is the result of experience and experience the result of bad judgement.”

As the first winter snowstorm approaches, I find myself running around picking things up, putting things away and wondering about my time-management skills. My youngest son asked me, “Why do we need to put these panels away now, while its cold and raining?” Of course, I had a story of using a shovel and a pick axe to dig panels out of frozen ground one winter, when I didn’t make time to put them away. Lesson learned.

When I was younger and the first snowstorm of the year was heading our way, our Dad would need some extra help. My brother and I would get to miss school. Typically, the job would be moving cows closer to home but I have a pretty vivid memory of loading and hauling home a load of ditch hay bales (in what some might describe as a blizzard) that didn’t quite get done when it should have. That may have been the last time we baled road ditches. Another lesson learned.

I know people who love fall calving. I saw a video on social media of a rancher dragging a calf in a calf sled on the fresh snow into the barn, in October. That looked just like Spring calving to me. I have calved cows in every month of the year. There really isn’t a “perfect time,” you just do what works best for you. But you probably only know the answer to that because of your good and bad experiences.

As we move from fall into winter, rather quickly, I am sure there will be some things we will all try and do differently next year. But either way, you will have gained better judgement and probably a good story.

Enjoy the Day!

RANCH IT UP

with Tigger & BEC

By Tamra Heins, editor

According to the Merriam-Webster Dictionary a podcast is a program (as of music or talk) made available in digital format for automatic download over the Internet. The origin of the word came from combining the word iPod (which is a trademark name for a portable media player) and the word broadcast. Although, the first known use of the word goes back to 2004, the idea of downloading audio files for news stories dates back to 2000.

Fast forward 20 plus years and the podcast has become mainstream. According to the site ListenNotes.com there are just over 3.2 million podcasts available for download. With a relatively inexpensive start up cost and the varied topics that interest people Podcasts have rocketed to popularity. No matter what your interest, odds are there is a podcast about it. From news, to crime stories and fiction to other people's opinions, you can bet there is a podcast to download.

Podcasts have recently become very popular in the livestock business as well. This magazine season, I will be featuring a podcast in every issue. I am looking for livestock specific podcasts to feature in January and February. Email me your favorite at tamra@strategicconcepts.biz and the top vote getter will be featured.

But first, I am featuring my favorite podcast, well, because they are my favorite podcasters and long-time friends, Jeff "Tigger" Erhardt and Becca "BEC" Wanner from the Ranch It Up Podcast and Radio Show. This "dynamic duo" has an extensive background in agriculture and communications. They are both Animal and Range Science graduates from North Dakota State University and both were raised on multi-generational cattle ranches and continue to live and promote that lifestyle today.

Ranch It Up just celebrated its third anniversary of being a nationally syndicated podcast. But Erhardt is no stranger to the podcast world. Erhardt began his podcast career while working with the Working Ranch podcast for five years previously. "I barely knew what a podcast was when I started," said Erhardt. "But I noticed early on that there wasn't anyone doing anything in our niche." He added.

Erhardt admits, he literally stumbled on to the podcast scene as he was doing voiceover work at the time and was interested in the idea of taking a specific topic and whittling it down for the beef cattle world.

Their podcast has grown to about 25,000 listeners. Wanner gives credit to their available resources such as RFD-TV. "Our connections with RFD and their Sirius XM radio channel (Rural Radio Channel 147) has been a huge part of our success."

A lot of podcasts don't really have time constraints, some episodes may be 15 minutes long, while the next episode may be an hour long. Because the Ranch It Up podcast is syndicated on radio, the show has to be exactly thirty minutes for the space they have been allotted. This makes for a consistent product every week and has been a large contributor to being able to monetize their podcast.

The show has about 15 partners listed on their website, including the American Simmental Association and also a partnership with Marty Ropp at Allied Genetics. Wanner says each thirty-minute podcast is backed by about 20-30 hours of preparation, "We work very hard to make a great listening experience."

Erhardt sees the popularity of podcasts to continue, "The two biggest words in media right now are on demand." People seem to enjoy the ability to watch movies, listen to music or radio on their time and not on the network's programming time. "People want to have the choice to listen to what they want, when they want to listen."

HART SIMMENTALS WINS 2023 GOLDEN BOOK AWARD

The World Simmental-Fleckvieh Federation (WSFF) Golden Book Award recognizes individuals and organizations that have made significant contributions to the development of the Simmental/Simbrah breeds. The ASA Board, which nominates and approves Golden Book Awards, authorizes up to three awards annually. Recipients of the award receive a plaque from the WSFF and a framed citation signed by the ASA Chairman of the Board. This year, two longtime breeders and two recently retired ASA employees are recognized with the Association's highest honor.

Hart Simmentals, Frederick, South Dakota was one of the breeders awarded with the 2023 Golden Book Award.

Hart Simmentals, Frederick, South Dakota, held their first bull sale in 1976, coming onto the Simmental scene early in the breed's US history. Since then, the family has built a highly respected, customer-service-focused business, supplying reliable, breed-leading purebred genetics to a variety of customers. The Hart family began farming and ranching in the 1950s. Charlie Hart survived farming through the 1930s and years later, two of the seven sons stayed on the farm, including Kerry. In the 1970s they began using traditional red and white Simmental bulls on their Angus cows. During this time the family was also selling sheep, hogs, horses, milk, eggs, and produce. The cow herd evolved over the years, beginning with a shift from Angus genetics to purebred Simmental.

Breeding up to a purebred herd took time, but has paid off, with Hart Simmentals being one of the top sources for 100% Simmental genetics. During this time, they also focused on developing black and polled genetics. Kerry and his wife, Mara, continue the family business alongside their family. The Simmental breed has been at the heart of their operation for 50 years now, which they take great pride in. The Hart Simmentals program has stood the test of time by focusing on balance and consistency; fads and trends have never caused them to stray from the cattle they know work for their customers. Hart Simmentals was an early adopter of DNA technology, participating in the Cow Herd DNA Roundup. They have been recognized as a Performance Advocate, participating in Total Herd Enrollment, as well as the Carcass Merit Program and Carcass Expansion Project. With a deep appreciation and love for their cow herd, the Harts have focused on building consistency and reliability in each female. Reasonable frame size and traits that lead to easy-keeping females are a high priority. Hart bulls offer all of the traits that have made the Simmental breed successful, from calving ease and performance to docility. In addition to selling bulls, exhibiting cattle at shows has been a part of the Hart Simmental program for many years. In 1976, when demand for Simmental cattle was high, Charlie sent Kerry, then 16 years old, out on the show road. He attended every major show and jackpot held that summer, studying the leading showmen and honing his own skills. Soon, he was competing alongside the best in the industry. By 18, Kerry was taking his own show string to the National Western Stock Show (NWSS) in Denver; over the years Hart Simmentals has won a number of accolades, including the top pen of bulls at the NWSS. Hart Simmentals will hold their 49th annual sale in February of 2024. Their dedicated customer base can be attributed to their steadfast commitment to customer service. The large majority of customers are commercial breeders in the region, with a number of bulls going to fellow seedstock producers. For the last six years they have done a customer appreciation heifer giveaway — each bull purchase enters the customer in a raffle, and the winner is given a top pick from the Hart's replacement heifer pen. The fourth generation is now making its way onto the farm — Kerry and Mara are extremely proud to have brought their family up in the beef industry. Justin, the oldest son, and his wife, Jes, have four kids, Braelyn, Zoie, Jaxon, and Paislee; Travis, the middle son, and his wife, Shelby, are the parents of Greyson; and Jamie, their youngest daughter, and her boyfriend, Brandon, are an integral part of the operation. The Harts are extremely involved in their community, giving back through programs like 4-H. The Hart family has donated a heifer to raise funds for the American Simmental-Simbrah Foundation at the 2024 NWSS.

HAROLD ARNOLD

MCINTOSH, SD • APRIL 18, 1939 - MARCH 16, 2023

Adapted from his obituary.

Harold Arnold was born April 18, 1931 to John and Margaret (Huber) Arnold in rural McIntosh, SD. He was the oldest of five children. Harold grew up on the family ranch with his siblings Violet Geigle, Esther Mehl, Wesley Arnold and Gloria Lauinger. He went to country school and graduated from McIntosh High School in 1950. He was drafted into the US Army in 1952 serving his time in Germany. After an honorable discharge, Harold attended and graduated from South Dakota State University with an Agricultural Engineering degree, a minor in Mathematics and his pilot's license.

While home for a weekend from college, Harold was introduced to Lois Zimmer. Harold asked Lois to dance and he must have been impressed because the next weekend he rented a plane in Brookings and flew back to McIntosh to ask Lois for a date to a Morrystown dance. Harold and Lois were married August 19, 1961. Harold found his forever dancing partner for the next 61 years.

It was always Harold's plan to come back to the ranch he was raised on. In 1966, Harold and Lois, along with Wesley and Corrine Arnold formed Arnold Brothers Arrow Five Ranch. Harold was introduced to the Simmental breed of cattle while stationed in Germany. Arnold Brothers were one of the first cattle breeders to bring the Simmental breed to the United States.

Arnold Brothers raised and sold Simmental cattle for thirty-five years and became very well known in the United States, Canada, and Mexico. Their annual Bull Sale grew tremendously over the years and became a major event with bidders coming from all over the country. Harold's family and Wes's family were blessed with a great friendship over their ranching years.

Harold served on many boards, including the SD State Simmental Board, but always said his greatest accomplishment was raising and being a father to four beautiful daughters. Later the boys came; four wonderful sons-in-law followed by thirteen loving grandchildren and seven great grandchildren. He never missed a major event and was a role model for a strong work ethic and love for God.

Harold retired in 2005 and started the next phase of his life. Traveling and collecting antique cars and tractors were his favorite hobbies. For a few years, Harold drove a 1926 Model-T Ford to high school. Later he restored the Model-T along with many other antique cars and tractors that originally belonged to the Arnold family. Harold also loved purchasing old cars and would often surprise Lois with a new find. Harold was proud to show off his car collection at parades and car tours with friends. He belonged to three car clubs, traveled to many states and made lifelong friends.

Beautiful memories will remain with his family and wife Lois of 61 years. His daughters Carleen (Leon) Mack of Watertown, SD; Beth (Kyle) Jensen of Mobridge, SD; Jennifer (Darrin) Thurston of Mound, MN; and Lisa (Todd) Jensen of Spearfish, SD. Grandchildren Cameron (Kelsi) Mack, Shawn (Alexis) Mack, Seth (Roni) Mack, Caleb and Noelle Mack, Dayton (Rylae) Jensen, Collin (Morgan) Jensen, David (Tyra) Jensen, Audra (Kyle) Hiltunen, Tess and Maya Thurston, Haley and Rachel Jensen. Great grandchildren Lane, Tyra, Logan and Emma Mack and Brooks, Brigg and Lincoln Jensen. Siblings Violet (Herb) Geigle, Esther Mehl, and Wes (Corrine) Arnold.

Harold joined his mother and father Margaret and John Arnold, sister Gloria Lauinger, and brothers-in-law Clint Mehl and Dick Lauinger in heaven.

On Harold's 90th birthday we asked him "If you could do it all over again and be anything you wanted, what would you be?" He took a deep thoughtful moment of reflection and said, "I'd be a rancher." Our hearts are full knowing he lived his best life.
